Camden Celebrates Read Across America Day

CAMDEN, NJ – Mayor Francisco "Frank" Moran will join Acting State Superintendent Katrina T. McCombs on Monday, March 18th to help Camden City School District celebrate Read Across America Day. District schools are taking time out from their normal routines throughout the month of March to celebrate the birthday of one of America's most beloved authors - Theodor Seuss Geisel, who wrote children's books under the pen name Dr. Seuss. March 2nd marked Dr. Seuss's 115th birthday.

The Mayor and the Superintendent will celebrate the legacy of Dr. Seuss by reading some of his beloved books to Ms. Passwater's Kindergarten class at the Early Childhood Development Center.
