Camden City School District Celebrates 100th Day of School with Pre-K "100 Year Old" Dress-Up Day

Camden, NJ – The Camden City School District is excited to announce its celebration of the 100th day of school, featuring Pre-K students and staff dressing up as 100-year-olds. The event will take place on February 20th at 9:30 a.m. at the Martha F. Wilson Early Childhood Development Center located at 1602 Pine St, Camden, NJ 08103.

The 100th day of school holds special significance as it marks an important milestone in the academic year, symbolizing growth, progress, and achievement. This year, the district is embracing creativity and fun by inviting Pre-K students to participate in a unique "100 Year Old" dress-up day.

During the event, students will engage in various learning activities designed to reinforce counting skills up to 100. These activities will not only be educational but also entertaining, fostering a positive and engaging learning environment for our youngest learners.
